

Consultants

Welcome to the Consultants Section

Many voluntary and community sector organisations engage with consultants to benefit from specialist knowledge, adding value and expertise in areas where it is most needed.

Offering a range of services and skills such as strategic planning and problem solving, consultants' relationships with organisations can take a variety of forms.

Consultant members of the Institute of Fundraising are listed in our Directory.

Whilst their services are not specifically endorsed by the Institute, they are committed to abiding by our Code of Conduct and Codes of Fundraising Practice.

Their commitment to best practice and their engagement with the ethics and principles of the Institute assures you of the best in advice and support.

If you are looking for advice on employing a fundraising consultant we strongly advise you to read both our guidelines and our Code of Fundraising Practice which should ensure that both you and your chosen consultant get the best from your relationship.

If you are a consultant and a current Individual member and would like to be listed in the Directory of Consultants please sign in to the website and apply here. Also you can take advantage of the Professional Indemnity Insurance Access Underwriting offer with specially calculated rate of cover for Institute Members here (you will need to be signed-in to access this link).

If you are a consultant and are interested in joining the Institute, and promoting your services through the directory, join now!

Consultants will also be interested to learn about the work of the Consultants Special Interest Group.
